

Exceptional $22 Suitings

THE men who come here to-morrow and ask to see the "$22 table" will find about thirty-five Spring suitings that came to us through a rather unusual purchase. A smaller shop would promptly have priced them $30 and $35. They are not so good as our $30 lines, but they are by far the strongest $22 values we have offered in a regular way for some time.

There are a few gun-metal and light-colored fabrics in the lot; but most of them are browns and grays, in subdued stripe and overplaid effects. All are new and extremely desirable.

Every order taken will of course be subject to our invariable guaranty of thorough satisfaction on the part of our customers. Suits will be pressed and kept in repair one year without charge.

M. T. H. S. LOSES IN THE LAST HALF OF THE GAME

Wabash Team Is Outplayed for Seven Innings, but Makes a Strong Rally.

BOHNSTADT IN FORM

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., April 30.—Wabash had a narrow escape from defeat this afternoon in the game with the Manual Training High School of Indianapolis, winning only in the last two innings by the score of 9 to 5. Boulton pitched the first five innings for Wabash, and was forced to retire in favor of Rubush, who allowed but one man to reach first base. Bohnstadt pitched a fine game for Manual Training until the eighth inning. Wabash's new line-up is a great improvement. Coen held the bat had a good arm and caught several men trying to steal bases. Wabash men in the eighth inning, making four runs on three hits, a base on balls, two errors, passed ball and base on balls. Manual Training School led by the score of 4 to 0 in the eighth inning. For M. T. H. S. McCrea played a fine fielding and batting game. Coen led for Wabash with three hits and good fielding. The line-up:

M. T. H. S.—Diddle, left field; Robinson, shortstop; Bohnstadt, pitcher; Smith, second; Cullen, third; McCrea, center field; Gray, right field; Sweeney, first; Rohlen, catcher.

S. H. S. BALL TEAM HAS BEEN REORGANIZED

The Shortridge High School baseball team has taken a decided turn in the past week and the team is now playing a much faster article of ball that it was thought possible a week ago. The team put in every afternoon at hard practice last week and the infield has been reorganized. Captain Conner is now doing the bulk of the work behind the bat and Horn has been transferred to shortstop. Lee Bush, a new candidate for first base, has been gathering everything in sight around the second base and is out of the game on account of poor work in his studies. The game scheduled with Noblesville was declared off and the team held a practice game with the scrubs yesterday. The second team has organized and elected Herman Spain captain and Roland Pratt manager. Games will be arranged with the smaller high schools of the State. Manager Pratt is trying to arrange a game with Westfield for next Saturday. Many members of the regular team who are out on account of receiving D's on the last report card are playing on the scrubs.

M. T. H. S. Team After Games.

The second baseball team of the Manual Training High School is the best the school has had for some time and every effort is being made to obtain a regular schedule for the squad. A game with Plainfield next Saturday and will probably play one with Rushville the following week. The team will like to hear from any secondary high school in the State. Danville preferred.

Heavy bodies generally make a noise when they drop, but there were no loud reports when the Indianapolis baseball team fell to second place in the percentage column about ten minutes after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fast double play in the ninth inning, started and executed mostly by Pete O'Brien, sounded the death knell to first position, as it ended the third game with St. Paul with Indianapolis in possession of one lonesome tally and the Saints credited with four runs. There was general disappointment over the loss of the game, as it gave St. Paul a chance to pass Indianapolis in the race, but the Hoosiers did not escape censure. The question was asked by hundreds, "How could we expect to win with four dinky hits and rank fielding against the brilliant work of the Saints, both in the field and at the bat?"

That was the size of the matter. After the first inning there was nothing doing for Indianapolis in the scoring line. Base hits were hard to locate in the score. A pitcher new to Indianapolis occupied the box for St. Paul. He was a new name, but he was a glorious meeting for him. He is one of Mike Kelly's Northern League finds. He succeeded in making the Hoosier pitchers look like high school lads. Four scattered singles in as many innings was the allotment for the Hoosiers. They received perfect and sensational support. Alleman was the slug for Indianapolis. He did his best, but as a baseball good one man cannot play the whole game against nine hustling, scrappy opponents, and his efforts were somewhat forgotten in the confusion of the general confusion in the field and at the bat of his team mates. Hogreiver did his best to infuse ginger into the other nine and in the third inning he got a put-out at the plate on a very peculiar play. The Saints had the bases occupied when Mike Kelly passed down on the line. A few more in the game like Hogreiver would have given Indianapolis at least a good look-in for the victory.

SAINTS ON THE JUMP.

Mike Kelly kept his men on the jump all through the contest and when it came down to cases in the ninth inning Pete O'Brien was the man who deprived Indianapolis of the last chance to win. O'Brien's work all through the game was fast, while Marcan and Wheeler covered their positions in faultless style.

It was Alleman's request that Indianapolis go to bat in the ninth inning, and with Hogreiver lacking a single to right field. This start put the big crowd of fans in a state of confusion. The Hoosiers, when he sacrificed "Hoggie" to second. Hogreiver had started to steal third when McCrea's sacrifice hit him and he was out. The Hoosiers were left with only one that crossed the plate to the credit of Indianapolis during the afternoon. Hogreiver coaxed a base on balls in the third with only one out. McCrea and McCree could not advance him around the circuit. Swander started the fourth with the bases before him and he was out. A wild pitch sending him to third, but Heydon fanned. Hess was hit and sent to the base before the inning was over. Two other chances were offered during the remaining innings, but there was no hitting to advance the base runners.

The Saints were quick to tie the score by making one in the last of the first inning on Jackson's single and Marcan's error at first. The visitors took the lead in the third, Jackson hit for two runs and the Hoosiers were out. Jackson hit for two runs and the Hoosiers were out. Jackson hit for two runs and the Hoosiers were out.

Baseball Notes.
Dickey is badly needed at the initial sack. Hogreiver drew three passes and got one hit. Alleman struck out the side in the second inning.

Bug Holliday had several close plays to get out but he gave good decisions in about every instance.

Judging from the ball played by Hess today he must be getting stiffer instead of rounding into shape.

The St. Paul team will remain in Indianapolis until Tuesday morning. No game is scheduled to-day, and to-morrow being Derby day at Louisville, the teams will not play.

In order to win games the Hoosiers must do a little better stick work. Magoon and Hess are two of the weakest members of the Hoosiers with the willow. Both can do better when they get in shape.

The St. Paul team is a pretty fast aggregation, and Manager Kelly keeps his men hustling all the time. He has a pitcher in shape to put in the box any time it is necessary during the game. It hasn't been necessary the past two days.

DECISION MAY FAVOR SUNDAY BASEBALL

Supreme Court Justice Gaynor, at Brooklyn, Indicated He Would Uphold the Club.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Supreme Court Justice Gaynor, at Brooklyn, to-day indicated from the bench in a habeas corpus proceeding brought by Bernard J. York, a lawyer, that he probably would decide in favor of Sunday baseball in Brooklyn in the near future. York obtained a writ of habeas corpus in connection with the arrest of three baseball players and their programme sellers at Washington Park, Brooklyn, last Sunday. During the argument to-day York stated that it would be his purpose to thresh out the question of the Sabbath peace as affected by Sunday baseball, whereupon Judge Gaynor said: "It is not shown here that any one's religious feelings were injured by the games already held in Brooklyn. This must be shown as well as complaint from persons living in the vicinity of the ball grounds."

Judge Gaynor discharged the ball which had been required from the ball players, declaring it entirely unnecessary, and paroled the men. He expressed himself vigorously against the action of the police, saying they had no business to interfere with the game.
